Three Airlines Stop Flights

NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the nation's largest airlines were shut down completely today as a result of a flight engineers' wildcat strike that has caused the greatest tieup in American aviation history.

Three other airlines snarled in the five-day-old walkout were continuing to operate — at least through the day — with drastically reduced service.

$4,000 Face Layoffs
Trans World Airlines, American Airlines and Eastern Airlines have halted operations for the duration of the strike, with 84,000 employees slated for layoffs.

Pan American World Airways and National Airlines planned to maintain token service, Western Airlines, down to four jet flights a day between Los Angeles and Seattle, also continued a token effort.

From Miami to Boston and from New York to Los Angeles, many thousands of passengers have been inconvenienced by the walkout of the 3,500-member Flight Engineers International Union.

700 Flights Cancelled
Airline executives estimated that through Monday night travel plans of at least 125,000 persons in metropolitan New York alone had been disrupted. An estimated 700 flights affecting 35,000 persons were canceled Monday.

Trains, buses and the major airlines untouched by the strike reported a mammoth flooding of requests for reservations.

Among the major airlines not struck are United, Delta, Braniff, Capital, Northeast and Continental.

The flight engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision of the National Mediation Board ordering their union and the Air Line Pilots' Association at United Airlines to vote for a single union as bargaining agent for both.

Pilots are in the majority and

Watchdog Unit For Laos Gets U.S. Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is ready to submit all future aid to the royal Lao government to the screening of a neutral nations' watchdog commission.

This evidence of full U. S. support for a genuinely neutral Laos was made known today by authoritative government sources.

They said the offer had been transmitted to King Savang Vatthana of Laos, the Soviet Union and neutral nations in Southeast Asia. The king has called for the neutrality of Laos.

The U. S. action was discussed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a 30-minute meeting Monday night with Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

Rusk gave Menshikov a translation of King Savang's message, proclaiming that Laos "will not join in any military alliance and will not have on its territory either foreign forces or military bases."

U. S. officials said the United States would be prepared to withdraw its more than 100 military advisers now training the royal army and turn over the job to military experts from neutral countries. This proposal would depend upon a cease-fire in the fighting between leftist and government forces and a withdrawal of any foreign military advisers or technicians now aiding the leftist Pathet Lao.

A British diplomat here welcomed as "most generous" the American offer to have all of its future aid screened.

Menshikov told newsmen after his meeting with Rusk that the Soviet Union has always thought Laos should be neutral in accordance with the 1954 Geneva agreement.

Menshikov said no agreements or decisions were reached in his conversation with Rusk. "It was a preliminary kind of talk," he said.

Banks Won't Close On Washington's Birthday

The Farmers National, First National and Home Savings & Loan Co. will remain open Wednesday, despite the fact that Washington's birthday is a legal holiday.

Bank officials said today that since the institutions adopted the Saturday closing more than a year ago, they do not close on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, Columbus Day or Veterans Day.

The only holidays observed are New Year's, Memorial Day, July 4th, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Space Capsule Recovered by U.S.

Test Vital To Manned Flight Soon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An unmanned space capsule soared 107 miles high and 1,425 miles downrange today in its most severe test and was recovered from the sea 21 minutes later.

The spacecraft was propelled aloft from this missile testing station at 9:10 a.m. on the nose of a giant Atlas missile.

It landed 13 miles from the nearest of a fleet of waiting recovery ships and was quickly spotted by crewmen of an airplane.

The LSD (landing ship dock) Donner hoisted the spacecraft aboard.

No Word On Damage

There was no immediate word here on what damage, if any, had been done to the capsule as it landed in the Atlantic Ocean.

The aim of the test was to determine what happens when such a spacecraft returns through the atmosphere under the worst possible conditions.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that the Atlas launcher and the spacecraft itself performed satisfactorily.

If the capsule survived with little effects, it will be a tremendous boost to this nation's hope of sending an astronaut into orbit late this year.

The floating capsule was sighted at 9:32 a.m. and the recovery, by helicopter, was made 21 minutes later.

The bell-shaped capsule was aboard the Donner at 10:09 a.m. NASA announced 25 minutes after launching.

Astronauts On Hand
All seven U. S. astronauts were on hand for the tests. Two of them—Leroy Cooper and Walter Schirra—streaked overhead in a F106 jet when the missile was launched. Virgil Grissom was at a tracking station in Bermuda.

The other four were at the Cape. The Atlas' mission was to push the space chamber to an altitude of 115 miles, then send it back into the earth's atmosphere at a speed of 13,000 miles an hour.

The program for the spacecraft itself: to slam back through the "heat barrier" of the atmosphere with the force of a truck hitting a brick wall and parachute into the Atlantic about 400 miles northeast of Puerto Rico, approximately 1400 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

The jarring trip was to take 18 minutes. Ships, planes and helicopters waited in the intended impact area to attempt recovery.

Salvation Army Board Installs Dr. Howard Moore

Dr. Howard Moore was welcomed as a new member when the Salvation Army Advisory Board met Monday noon at the Lape Hotel.

Capt. Paul Thompson of the Cleveland headquarters, a guest, presented a plaque to Dr. Moore. Another new member, Fred Theiss, will receive his plaque at the next meeting March 20.

The executive committee was re-elected at a recent meeting, and is as follows: Edward P. Kennedy, president; Mrs. George Bunn, vice president; Mrs. Goldie Schwartz, secretary; Donald Vincent, treasurer; Mrs. Schwartz, Joseph Fester, Howard Firestone, Byron Maxson, Mrs. George Rogers and Herman Stratton were re-elected to the board for three-year terms.

Mr. Firestone reported on the property committee, and stated that the inside of the citadel will be painted.

The financial report was given by Mr. Maxson.

JFK Program Prospects Good

Speedy Action By Congress Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders report to President Kennedy today the prospects generally are good for passage of his legislative program.

Despite Republican opposition to some proposals, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Kennedy's measures will get speedy action in a Congress about ready to buckle down to work after relative inactivity during the new President's first month in office.

The Democratic leader called Senate committee chairmen to a meeting later in the day to map a program for "adequate and prompt consideration" of the Kennedy program by the Senate.

He noted that the Senate had passed on a voice vote Monday a bill to set up a United States travel service to attract foreign tourists to this country.

The bill would authorize the government to spend $5 million the first year on active travel promotion. The measure is aimed at reducing gold outflow. American tourists spent $12 billion more abroad last year than foreign tourists spent in the United States.

Congressional movement was developing on these major items:

1. Education—In the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., gave a go-ahead signal to the federal aid to education program the President sent to Congress Monday.

2. Emergency unemployment aid extension—The House Ways and Means Committee started closed door sessions aimed at getting a bill in shape for house action late this week or early next. A compromise on the financing

Kennedy Okays Visit to Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will visit Canada in what probably will be his first venture outside the United States since taking office.

A date has not been fixed. Kennedy will make the trip in time to address a joint session of the Canadian Parliament before it adjourns. It is expected to wind up in early summer.

Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker announced Kennedy's acceptance of his invitation to return to Ottawa Monday from a White House visit.

The exchange of visits and a joint statement issued at the White House after Diefenbaker left were indicative of the close relations between the two countries.

In the statement, Kennedy and Diefenbaker reaffirmed the determination of their nations to work together for peace and freedom in the world.

In talking to newsmen in Washington, Diefenbaker in effect rebuked Canadian nationalists. He said Canada "does not intend to be neutralist regardless of the opinions expressed by some people."

Woman Killed, 3 Hurt In Rt. 30 Accident

A 53-year-old East Liverpool woman became Columbiana County's third traffic fatality of the year when she was killed in a two-car collision Monday afternoon.

Dead of a crushed chest was Stella Baughey, 53, of 454 First Ave., East Liverpool, a passenger in one of the cars.

Three persons were seriously injured in the mishap which occurred on Rt. 30, one and one-half miles northwest of Rt. 267, at 2:45 p.m.

State patrolmen said the mishap occurred when Keith Smith, 38, of Cleveland, drove his southbound car at a high rate of speed left of center around a curve into the path of a northbound station wagon driven by John Baughey, 63, husband of the victim.

Injured and taken to East Liverpool City Hospital were Baughey, with multiple fracture of the left ribs and dislocation of the left ankle; Emma Jackson, 23, of 454 First Ave., East Liverpool, daughter of the couple, fracture of the right shoulder, elbow and wrist and lacerations of the mouth; and Smith, fracture of the left thigh, fracture of the upper jaw and nose and severe lacerations of the mouth.

Mrs. Baughey was pronounced dead at the scene.

Both men are reported in critical condition at the hospital. Emma Jackson's condition is "fair."

Patrolmen said investigation into the accident is pending. Both vehicles received extensive damages, the Patrol said.

Brokaw Seeks High Court Ruling on Jobs

Prosecuting Attorney G. William Brokaw announced today that he will file an action in the Ohio Supreme Court on behalf of Mrs. Edna Helman of Lisbon, one of the employees hired by the board of county commissioners as a microfilm operator.

The action will be brought against James T. Welch, director, department of state personnel, and seeks to force Welch to approve payment of Mrs. Helman's salary.

Mrs. Helman is one of a group of Republican employees hired by the commissioners to succeed workers who served under the preceding Democratic-controlled Board of Commissioners.

Brokaw said he wants a ruling by the court on the status of the employees.

Welch in denying payment to the Republican employees, stated that the Democrats are under classified civil service, and, therefore, cannot be replaced by the commissioners.

It is the contention in Brokaw's petition that the employees can not have any more than a provisional status under the Civil Service laws of Ohio.

A provisional status may not be maintained for longer than 90 days; therefore, both sets of employees, over which the controversy has been raging at the Court-house, have no more than an unclassified status, Brokaw believes.

Police Help Injured Boy Get to Hospital

Quick action by police may have saved the life of Rodney Geho, five and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Geho of 908 Liberty St., late Saturday. Police, who did not report the incident yesterday, responded to a call for help after Rodney, playing with his brother, Ronney, 7, crashed into the front door which was standing partly open. Shattered glass severed an artery in his left arm.

As the father rushed Rodney to the Central Clinic, cruiser police, with all traffic lights turned on "red," led the way to the hospital. Rodney is recovering although it will be a while before he has full use of his left hand.

N. Mexico, Texas Hit By Storm

By The Associated Press

The season's most severe snowstorm hit the plains of west Texas and southeast New Mexico Monday, isolating some communities and causing widespread traffic tieups.

Flood waters from swollen rivers and streams menaced areas in Iowa, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Alabama, Virginia, Maryland and Florida.

The Southwest snowstorm erupted in freezing temperatures as rain splashed across most of Texas eastward in warm air to the Atlantic Coast.

In Texas, up to 20 inches of snow fell in the small town of Claune, near Levelland, where the snow depth was 19 inches. Scores of children were rescued from seven school buses which stalled in the Levelland area.

Lubbock, a city of 128,691, was virtually paralyzed by a foot of snow and Lovington, N. M., was stranded by a 16-inch fall.

Visibility was reported near zero during the height of the storm.

Snow mixed with rain fell during the morning in Lubbock, with temperatures at freezing. Fifty students and 15 teachers were forced to spend the night in a school in nearby Woolforth. Roads were virtually impassable.

National guardsmen were called to assist highway crews in clearing roads in the storm belt. Thousands of cars were abandoned. Road crews, driving tractors and plows, rescued many motorists. Texas troopers rescued a busload of school children in the Lubbock area and took them to a church. Their parents, getting through the heavy snow on tractors, took them home.

Two traffic deaths in the Lubbock area were blamed on the storm.

Other heavy snowfalls in Texas included 15 inches in Plains, 14 in Denver City and 10 in Morton. In Hobbs, N.M., the fall measured 9 inches.

Early thaws of heavy snows and recent heavy rains overflowed many streams in the East, South and Midwest.

The swollen Allegheny River, carrying a 15-mile-long ice gorge, crested well below flood stage in Pittsburgh Monday night. The gorge appeared to be thinning out as it moved downstream. The Allegheny reached the 21.5-foot level and then began falling. Flood stage in Pittsburgh is 25 feet.

Education A'long Liberal Lines Is Need, Lowry Avers

"A liberal education is a necessity on life, no matter how you get it," a joint PTA-Town Hall audience was told by Dr. Howard Lowry, president of Wooster College, speaking at the Salem Junior High Auditorium Monday night.

He pointed out that persons unable to go to college can, by dint of their own thinking, reading and imagination, increase their knowledge. "Man, whether he is 17 or 70, doesn't use a fraction of the mind God gave us," Dr. Lowry declared.

He urged adults to encourage youths to have a greater desire to learn in a nation where the opportunity exists for everyone to get all of the education he or she can assimilate and he warned that "nothing except ignorance is more costly than education."

Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith introduced the speaker.

Council Okays Plan Authorizing Force In Congo

U.S. on Winning Side; Russian Resolution Is Battered 8-1

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviets bowed to the pressure of Asian and African opinion today and permitted Security Council approval of a resolution authorizing the United Nations to use force if necessary to prevent civil war in the Congo.

Even before the resolution's adoption one of its chief targets — Katanga President Moise Tshombe—had rejected a key provision calling for withdrawal from the Congo of all Belgian military and political advisers. They supply the working brains of Tshombe's provincial army and administration.

Resolution Approved 9-0
The vote on the resolution, which was sponsored by the council's three Asian-African members was 9-0, with the United States on the winning side. Despite its bitter opposition to the U.N. operation in the Congo and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld's direction of it, the Soviet Union abstained, apparently unwilling to incur the anger of the uncommitted Asian and African nations by a veto. France also abstained.

Shortly before the vote on the Asian-African peace plan, the council smashed down, 8-1, a Soviet resolution calling for an end to the U.N. operation in the Congo within a month and for the dismissal of Hammarskjöld.

Shortly before 4 a.m. the 11-nation body rejected an Asian-African resolution condemning atrocities and assassinations in the Congo. That resolution was prompted by the announcement Monday that six associates of slain Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba had been executed in South Kasai Province after deportation from Leopoldville by Premier Joseph Ileo's government.

Failed To Get Votes
The resolution failed to get the seven votes necessary for adoption after the Soviet Union, with its 93rd and 94th vetoes, killed two U.S. amendments aimed to keep Leopoldville, Katanga and South Kasai from being singled out as atrocity centers while Stanleyville, the seat of the pro-Communist Lumumbist regime, went unmentioned.

The final vote was 6-0 for the resolution, with the United States, Britain, Nationalist China, France and Turkey abstaining.

Ceylon, Liberia and the U.A.R. sponsored the winning plan to end off civil war and the losing proposal to condemn the assassinations, with the backing of 17 other Asian-African countries and Yugoslavia.

The peace plan also calls on all countries to keep military personnel from going to the Congo, provides for an investigation of the killing of Lumumba and envisages the convening of Parliament and the removal of Congolese troops from politics through retraining.

Hammarskjöld welcomed the resolution's adoption. He declared it gave "a stronger and clearer framework for United Nations action." He also called for more troops to build up the thinning U.N. Congo force.

Charter Commission Hears City Manager

Members of the Salem Charter Commission heard comments and received answers to their question from Richard H. Custer, Zanesville city manager, at their weekly meeting Monday night.

The commission members also asked questions of Gene Mizer, a Zanesville city councilman, who accompanied Custer to the meeting.

Commission members will hear a talk by Harold Milligan, mayor of Struthers and president of the Ohio Municipal League, at their meeting next Monday. It will be the last in a series of talks by experts in the field of city government to be heard by the commission.

In the two meetings following next Monday's session, the commission will attempt to make a decision on the best government befitting Salem, Lozier Caplan, commission chairman, said.

Ohio Vote Set On Jobless Bill

Dems Uncommitted On Emergency Rider

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) The Ohio House Rules Committee has firmed up a showdown vote Wednesday on a Republican-sponsored bill to extend unemployment compensation for the long-time jobless.

The big vote will come without any solid declaration by Democrats that they will support a Republican-sponsored emergency clause to make the extended effective when, and if, the Democratic governor signs the controversial measure.

Minority Democrats, if they cast a minimum of nine votes for the emergency clause, are in a position to help the majority Republicans put over the measure. Those nine votes from the Democratic side would make the bill a bipartisan one. Otherwise, Republicans are inclined to pass it as a regular measure, effective 90 days after the governor signs it.

Minority Leader James A. Lantz D-Fairfield, was obviously furious Monday night when he stalked out of a meeting of the House Rules Committee. Asserted Lantz to newsmen:

"I never saw it played this way. Two years ago when they (the Republicans) were in the minority, they often asked me for time to consider controversial measures. They got it."

"Apparently despairing of fast federal action, House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, told newsmen he expects a federal law extending benefits about six weeks after the state act is passed."

That would mean that the cost of the first six or seven weeks of special benefits for the unemployed—in the area between the regular 26 weeks and the special 39 weeks—would be borne by the special Ohio unemployment compensation fund instead of the federal fund.

That is Cloud's own estimate. One Republican amendment may surprise the Democrats. It will provide that applicants for extended (39-week) benefits need have worked only 20 weeks in their base year instead of the 30 weeks provided in the substitute bill originally presented to the committee.

DANGEROUS YEARS AHEAD

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says he would vote against sending American troops into the Congo unless troops from other African nations could not keep the peace. "But I doubt that they will fail," Young told members of Army-Navy American Legion Post 54 in a speech here Monday night. He said 1963-64 will be militarily dangerous years for the United States.

Monday Types

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How you meet Mondays is a real test of your character.

Nobody in the office has a hard time getting through Friday. It is the last day of the work week, and everybody is perched on cloud No. 9, twittering with joy as he waits for the clock to strike quitting time.

But your office Monday bird differs from the Friday bird. He knows the work week is just beginning, and the freedom of Friday seems a continent away. He tends to chirp a different tune.

Yet it takes different kinds of birds to make any aviary. Probably if you look around your office some of the following types of Monday morning birds will seem familiar.

The late-rising pub crawler—He flutters in on one wing with hollow eyes and disheveled plumage, hangs up his coat and hat, then sneaks down to the corner tavern for an eye-opener.

The puffed-up virago—She is the mother superior of the secretarial pool, and gets in 15 minutes early so she can be sure to catch and bowl out any little stenographer who arrives five seconds late.

The moulting morning dove—The thought of facing another whole week of labor overwhelms him. He sits, droop-feathered, at his desk, emitting hollow cries, hoping someone will say, "Man, you're sick. You ought to go home." No one does. On Mondays no one has any sympathy for the other fellow.

The fear-tufted finch—Burdened with secret guilt, he flits in at 8 a.m., hoping to finish before the boss arrives the report he should have completed the previous Friday.

The double-breasted creeper—"What's good about it?" he mumbles if anyone says "good morning" to him. He buries himself in a pile of papers. To this misanthropic human lump all work days are the same. He hates Friday because it gives him the problem of figuring what to do on Saturday and Sunday.

The high-flying kingfisher—The junior executive bounces in as cheerful as a small boy on a pogo stick. "Ah," he burbles, "what a wonderful day. Another golden chance to carve a niche in the hall of business fame."

The busy-fingered magpie—Too lazy to go to the stock room himself, he hops from desk to desk borrowing paper, pencils, type writer ribbons, scissors, and paper clips to last him through the week. At each stop he also ties to borrow enough money to tide him over until payday.

The triple-crested nitpicker—The office straw boss, frustrated by two days of listening to his domineering wife, enters rubbing his hands with glee. He looks around at the huddle backs of his staff and murmurs, "I hardly know where to begin. Who'll I fly-speck first?"

Negro Sit-Ins Are Returned To Solitary

By The Associated Press
Eight Negro sit-in demonstrators were back on a diet of bread and water today in a disciplinary cell at the York County prison camp near Rock Hill, S. C., where they staged a sit-down strike and refused to work.

Prison officials said they showed no indication of giving up their protest against what they termed overwork and the transfer of one of their companions to the jail.

York County Supervisor J. Ed Allen said the eight consumed second helpings of a meal given them Monday, the first full meal in three days under terms of disciplinary confinement.

The were among 11 young Negro men who chose confinement at the prison camp rather than post appeal bonds of $100 each on conviction of trespassing at lunch counters for white persons in downtown Rock Hill. One was transferred to jail, two others were on the prison camp sick list.

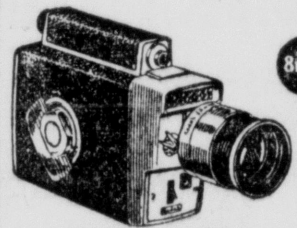

In Atlanta, eight Negro doctors were arrested when they tried to eat lunch in the segregated cafeteria at the Biltmore Hotel where they were attending the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly.

The physicians, all from Atlanta, were charged with violating Georgia's anti-trespass law and were bound over to the criminal court after a city court hearing. They were allowed to sign their own $100 bonds.

At Nashville, Tenn., police arrested about 30 Negroes staging a stand-in demonstration in front of the downtown Tennessee Theater. They were charged with violating a fire law by blocking an exit.

At Opelika, Ala., trial began in federal court on the Justice Department's request for an injunction to prohibit Macon County registrars from discriminating against Negro voters.

An admittedly illiterate white woman told of a voter registrar going to her home and signing her up while Negroes with high school diplomas testified they made repeated futile attempts to register.

Grownup-Type Blood Curdlers

If Patrice Lumumba and his companions had been murder victims in a play, instead of real life, any knowledgeable spectator would know where to look for the clues.

Who stood to gain the most from the death of the man who was the Communist Conspiracy's figurehead in the Congo?

What would the slayer do afterward that would tip his hand?

How was the killing done and what evidence was left by the perpetrators of the deed?

The chaotic political tangle in the Congo is worse than anything ever conceived by a playwright. But the obvious fact about Lumumba's death is that the Communist Conspiracy stood to gain the most.

If Lumumba became a martyr, he would be 10 times more useful than he had been as a day-to-day politician. His role then would be fixed. It would not be mercurial, as it had been in the hands of this paranoid young politician saddled with responsibilities too heavy for him.

COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY reacted so quickly to his death it must have been prepared in advance. Mob demonstrations occurred in Moscow, in Belgrade and other widely scattered cities. There was evidence of the same cold calculation that went into the prearranged Reichstag fire when Hitler's Nazis were trying to inflame German minds.

How was the slaying actually done? There is no evidence in the communiqué issued by Godefroid Munongo of Katanga province.

The story falls into place like this: Lumumba and his companions escaped in a car found some distance from the place where they were slain—in a village inhabited by hostile natives. "We asked ourselves how the three fugitives could have arrived there," reports Munongo tersely, giving no answer. But it was not coincidence. They were taken there. They would not have gone of their own will.

Munongo declares frankly that Lumumba and his companions deserved death. He admits the villages who inflicted death may have "acted somewhat precipitously." But then he says—and this is a key statement: "But we cannot honestly blame these people because they have rid the Congo, and the whole world, of a problem which certain people have exaggerated and a problem which menaced the existence of human life. . . . He and his accomplices had no right to escape and try to hide in an area where people supported the Katanga government and this at a moment when Lumumba's friends in the United Nations had driven the people of the Katanga to a high point of excitement."

DOES THIS ingenious statement shift suspicion to the officials of Katanga province? Not at all.

It gives the clue that all seasoned murder mystery fans expect to find as a matter of right.

Lumumba and his companions were slain at a place their executioners thought would throw everybody off the track—in the other faction's back yard. The idea was to embarrass Katanga province, which is anti-Communist.

They were spirited away in a car, then transported overland to a village whose inhabitants would fear them apart in fury, thus shifting suspicion from the master plotters.

Naturally, the people now doing the most mourning had something to do with the crime: that's standard practice. It's practically an open-and-shut case. The Reds killed Lumumba.

Come to think of it, read your newspaper for thrillers these days. Television's all right for kids, but for grown-up blood-curdlers in 1961 you can't beat the news.

Three-Way Standoff on Harmony

The one thing that could blow hope of a natural recovery from the recession sky-high would be a fresh round of fighting between employers and unions. A dozen union leaders and their opposite numbers among employers will make the decision

Good Bank Appointees

The sound financial structure of Salem's banks is due, in part, to the good judgment of its competent officers and board of directors.

Recent appointees are men of high standing in the community and again reflects favorably on the institutions. The Farmers National Bank board made a good choice in the selection of W. Eugene Young as a new director as did the First National in its appointment of Joseph Pidgeon. James H. Wilson, Sr., a Salem industrialist long interested in the welfare of his home town, adds stature to the First National board upon his election as vice-president.

Academic Honors

High grades in scholarship tests are hard to come by so congratulations are in order for Nancy Tarleton and Gail Gottschling, the two Salem High School seniors who were among 10 honorable mention winners in the Ohio General Scholarship tests given recently.

Harold R. Atkinson of Columbiana High School wears the broadest smile because he received the highest grade of all Columbiana students who took the examination.

All can be justly proud of their academic achievement.

Once Over

Russians did a masterpiece of timing with their double-feature satellite. They got it up just when Kennedy assembled the Cabinet for winter training; Democrats began studying red intentions; Uncle Sam put Adlai Stevenson into orbit around East River and Tammany boss De Sapio dropped bomb onto Bob Wagner.

Soviets did it at every moment when it seemed love and kisses could get a break through Valentine Day. Nikita was really shaking shoe at cupid, tender sentiments and peaceful hopes.

Free world asks Russia to ease world tensions and right away it responds by increasing the ulcer, insomnia and jittery crop. It chose birthday of Lincoln, who freed slaves instead of producing them. And it sent two satellites as Christian world began Lent, holy season of humility.

Having hit the backside of moon, the Soviets are now "casing" Venus. Planet ranks third to sun and moon in brightness. Condition the world is in shows that earth is at the bottom of class in brightness. It could even be dropped, from contention.

Free world scientists can't help but feel embarrassed. There may not be a missile gap but there surely is an outer-space propaganda and world advertising gap. Imagine a rocket that provides its own engine and second act! Russia says only purpose is to check methods of injection of space body into interplanetary trajectory and check size of solar system. That's double talk for, "We are out to make Uncle Sam look like an amateur in global prestige sweepstakes. What's new with you?"

Amazing thing is that Khrush announces that can make or break natural recovery. This is the purpose of President Kennedy's committee on labor-management policy. Its 21 members are expected to work together to show the Kennedy administration how it can stave off such tragedies as the 1959 steel strike that started the recession and never should have been called in the first place.

But the omen for their working together to avert trouble is far from bright. All recent presidents have tried to get a cooperative effort under way in this bothersome area. Failure always was caused by the same thing.

In any board or commission to which employers are appointed because they are employers and labor leaders because they are labor leaders, there is a standoff. No labor leader concedes that an employer might be right about any issue in which the labor leader's union had taken a contrary position. No employer will give in to a labor leader on any dispute in which employers have taken a contrary position.

President Kennedy's commission has seven employer members, seven union members and five public members. His secretary of labor and his secretary of commerce also will serve on the commission.

If he stuck to five public members, he might have accomplished something. With a commission divided three ways and two of the three parts irreconcilable as far as all their existing positions are concerned, Mr. Kennedy may wind up with a three-way standoff as far as policy recommendations are concerned.

We know what the goal of some college boys is, now that the football season is on. At each end of the field.

timetable for double-feature rocket and pinpoints date with Venus on or about middle of May. We thought Venus looked a little agitated last night. (Neighbor said he couldn't see it and thought it had gone to Security Council.)

WALT DISNEY'S newest is called "101 Dalmations." We're being hounded into seeing it. Radio Corp. announces a phoenotypewriter. It takes words through a megaphone and turns them into type. The spelling is far from accurate, it admits. This leaves the office stenographer with a slight lead.

We liked Bernice FitzGibbons' crack about weird appearances of today's fashion models: "In 25 years marriageable young men may be singing 'I want a ghou! just like a ghou! that married my old man.'"

Two investigators have filed report that it is not the high salaried folks in jobs of big responsibility who suffer most from heart disease but lower paid people. Okay, but who's ahead in ulcers?

Cemeteries are being hit by strikes by grave diggers. Will time come when florists, pallbearers and hearse drivers won't cross a picket line? Could casket makers be tied up by a sympathy strike? Does this forecast a day when a man who has had tough time living can't be buried without hassles and arbitration board meetings?

Connecticut, long known as land of steady habits and thrift has joined the big spenders, with legislature now considering raise in sales tax on cigarettes, gas, liquor and estates. Budget is $590 million largest in history and wooden nutmeggers are gasping.

Among the Grief Stricken Mourners

GOP And The South

By RAYMOND MOLEY

This is written at the conclusion of an automobile trip from San Francisco to New York. The route chosen was in part dictated by weather conditions but there was also the more important reason that I wanted to examine some of the changing political conditions in selected states in the great crescent from Texas to Virginia.

Stopovers were made in Texas, Mississippi and South Carolina. My conclusions, after opportunities to discuss politics with informed sources there, are these:

The Nixon-Lodge vote in the South represents a new high in a rising tide of Republican strength in that region.

This vote was not substantially affected by the religious issue. It was a vote against centralized federal government, heavy taxes, and vast spending by the federal government.

The greatest Republican gains were in the urban, newly industrialized centers. The back country is still the stronghold of the old, one-party Democrats.

A NEW GENERATION is rising in the South whose frame of thinking disregards the old issues raised by the Civil War and The Reconstruction. To be a Republican in the South is no longer unpopular.

In most states the Republican state organizations fail to elicit respect and do not lead this new Republican strength. This is not so true in Texas and elsewhere.

The Negro vote is almost solidly Democratic. And the turnout of Negroes in elections is getting larger.

In the 11 Southern states, ranging from Texas to Virginia and excluding the border states of Oklahoma, Missouri, Kentucky and West Virginia, the Nixon-Lodge ticket received a vote approximately 13 per cent higher than that cast for Eisenhower-Nixon in 1956.

In all those 11 states, only in Arkansas and Louisiana did Nixon-Lodge get fewer votes than Eisenhower-Nixon in 1956.

In Louisiana the Republican vote was smaller than in 1956 but that was caused by the presence of a third state of electors which received a large vote.

In Mississippi also there was a third state of electors, which received almost as many votes as both the Republican and Democratic states combined. But even with that handicap, Nixon-Lodge ran far ahead of Eisenhower-Nixon.

The percentages of Republican votes in those states were impressive. Those ran from a low of 37 per cent in Georgia to absolute majorities in Florida, Tennessee, and Virginia.

AN EXAMINATION of selected all-Negro voting areas in South Carolina indicated that in 1960 they voted more than 90 per cent for Kennedy-Johnson. In the same areas Eisenhower-Nixon in 1956 received about 40 per cent.

The lesson for the Republican party at the national level is that greater concentration of effort and better organization in the new and growing urban communities in the South can overcome the vote elsewhere and add to the Republican party most of the Southern states which went Democratic in 1960.

The recent death of Perry Howard, for a long time, national committeeman and a Republican leader in Mississippi, suggests the decline and ultimate disappearance of the feeble Republican organizations in the South.

Nixon as party leader and the National Republican Committee should exercise all influence to get new blood all along the line into the state Republican organizations.

It is obvious from the returns that the Republican party can gain no Negro votes from a position on civil rights.

All that Republicans have done in that direction, both in the South and in the North, has gained no votes. As one observer told me, "To the Southern Negro Lincoln is dead, but Roosevelt is living."

Political Exaggeration

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Damage To Nation's Economy Cited

There's no harm in talking openly about a recession or a readjustment, but there's a good deal of harm in exaggerations by politicians. They seek only to blame the opposite party or else to develop an atmosphere that will push a panicky Congress into big spending programs.

What would really be most helpful and constructive would be a discussion that puts the whole economic situation in perspective.

If, for instance, unemployment is to be reduced and held to a 4 per cent level, which is considered normal, it will be necessary to have a net growth of about 1.32 million new jobs every year from now through 1965. This is based on official forecasts by the Department of Labor on the coming of age of new workers and the number retired each year.

In addition to this, even more jobs — possibly another 2.72 million per year — will have to be created to take care of the persons who will be displaced by automation and increased productivity per man-hour or greater efficiency.

It is easy enough to bandy about figures on what the percentage of growth in national output should be. This is sometimes facetiously referred to as growthmanship. But the problem of a needed growth to take care of an expanded population and an increase in consumer requirements is not going to be solved by a mere mathematical formula.

It can be solved in only one of two ways — by a regulated economy that eventually can only mean state socialism and bring on an imitation communism or by an intensified system of private enterprise.

Unfortunately, politics has produced a bad atmosphere for the private enterprise system. The politician may not admit it but almost every solution he comes up with implies more and more government controls or more and more government spending.

No recession or depression can be cured that way — at least, experience in the last half-century points to failure after failure in that process.

WHAT IS DESIRABLE is a new emphasis on job creation. The profit system needs to be energized.

While laws are necessary to curb improper use of economic power by both management and labor, the truth is that existing laws, no matter how well-intentioned, contribute largely to confusion and actually retard national growth. Clarification of old laws, rather than enactment of new laws, is really needed.

Much, for instance, is made of the way antitrust laws are violated but it takes an army of lawyers to advise what is or is not lawful. Many mistakes are made and many law violations are not detected. One businessman said privately the other day that, if all the antitrust laws were strictly complied with today, many companies would have to suspend operations to find out what to do and what, since many would be in doubt, business would be injured to an incalculable extent. Expansion would be discouraged and monopoly increased.

The same thing is true with respect to the impact of the tax laws. They often discourage job creation. The problem of depreciation allowances on taxes is still unsolved because it is handled by politicians instead of economists.

AMERICA has been passing through a recession that shows some signs now of having reached bottom. Part of its damage was undoubtedly due to the unusually harsh winter weather, which has adversely affected some industries as well as retail sales and transportation.

Some significant indicators now are on the optimistic side but this should not encourage indifference to the solution of the problem of frequent recessions and readjustments in the national economy.

It will do little good merely to cry out for "more national growth." What is needed is a re-study of job creation.

While the profit motive does provide an incentive to businessmen and investors, it is by no means the only motive for successful operation of modern business. There is a deep-seated desire to succeed in a given enterprise and to expand.

Job creation is a natural consequence. Hence, to discourage job creation, as is done repeatedly by unwise legislation and by inaccurate and partisan interpretations of what has been called the business cycle, is to infect the nation with a chronic ailment — recurring recessions.

Science has produced technological improvements in material things but it has yet to come forward with satisfactory analyses of just what causes recessions and what really cures them.

The profit system needs a stimulus that could create more jobs. This will come only when the operations and potentialities of the private-enterprise system are better understood in Congress and in some academic circles whence comes much of the misguided pressure for a regulated, if not a totalitarian, economy.

College Preparation

High school graduates weak in mathematics face an uphill struggle for a college degree, according to a Kent State University mathematician.

In checking the records of 755 students who were required to take sub-college algebra, Dr. Frances Harshbarger found:

Only one out of five went on to graduate.

One in three was dismissed for poor grades.

Two out of five dropped out of the University voluntarily. Of this group, however, 44 per cent were failing when they quit.

The study was limited to students who entered Kent five years ago and who normally would have graduated last year.

In reporting her findings, Dr. Harshbarger said the study indicates "that many of the students should never have been admitted to the University because they lacked the ability to do college-level work."

At the same time, she pointed out that the survey also shows "the remedial, non-credit program serves a useful purpose in that it helps the able student with poor high school preparation in mathematics."

Kent must accept all graduates of accredited Ohio high schools regardless of their preparation, although it now will defer admission of those with poor academic records.

Not all Kent students are required to take mathematics. At the present, it is required for everyone in the College of Business Administration and about 60 per cent of those in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Education and Fine and Professional Arts.

Students following a course of study requiring mathematics are assigned to remedial classes if they did not study he subject in high school or if they scored low on their placement tests.

Remedial courses do not apply toward degree requirements, and a special fee is charged to cover the costs of instruction.

Matter of Fact

With the swiftness of a mouse-trap, the giant clams of the south Pacific pounce on their prey. When they snap shut, they really snap. Edges fit so tightly they can hold a fine wire.

The toad is a friend to man, ugly though he is. Toads make "pigs" of themselves over insect pests — they're always hungry. Puerto Rico actually imported toads to wipe out a white grub which had been destroying sugar cane.

The Social Notebook

MEMBERS of the Chatterbox Club will be entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ray Greenamyer of RD 1, Salem.

WSCS Group Meet, Study Prayer Theme

Four groups of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met recently in the church for business meetings and programs on "Prayer."

Reports of the sessions follow:

Wesleyan Service Guild

Miss Eleanor McMurray presided at the business meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild, when the group voted to contribute towards the purchase of a ditto machine for the church. It was reported that 10 calls on shut-ins were made during the month.

Miss Jean Olmhausen and Miss Phyllis Welsh were in charge of the program and devotions. The worship center was arranged with a three dimensional plaque of Christ in Gethsemane.

"Prayer" was the subject of the talk by Rev. Robert Irwin, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church. He stressed things basic to prayer life as one's own sincere beliefs and one's own relationship to God.

Mrs. Darrell Fadely told about a muscular sclerosis patient in Hungary behind the Iron Curtain, a Christian who refuses to renounce his faith, who has been added to the mailing list of "The Robin," MS pamphlet published here. Possible ways of aiding the man were discussed.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Fadely, Mrs. Charles Safreed and Miss Eleanor Bates.

Hannah Gallagher

"Seeking Sanctuary" was the theme of Mrs. Paul Holwick's devotions for the Hannah Gallagher Group meeting in the church. Mrs. Willis Hole presided.

Mrs. W. C. Kooman, Mrs. Herbert, Lora and Mrs. Hole were appointed to help with the church kitchen project.

The social committee was comprised of Mrs. Lora, Mrs. Mary Bell and Mrs. Charles Shears.

The March 8 meeting will begin with dessert at the church at 1:30 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Nestor, Mrs. J. L. Getz and Mrs. J. J. Stanyard.

Mrs. T. E. Miller will have charge of the program, and Mrs. Winston Ingram will present devotions.

Lois Zimmerman

Mrs. Fred Capel related highlights of her trip to the Holy Land for members of the Lois Zimmerman Group at a meeting in the church. "Kindness" was the theme of Mrs. Lloyd Gordon's devotional program.

The group discussed the mother-daughter banquet set for May 3.

Mrs. George Dressel, Mrs. J. A. Wingard and Mrs. Frank Hoskins served on the social committee.

The March 9 meeting will be at the church music room at 1:30 p.m.

Josephine Laskey

Mrs. Wesley Dilton had charge of devotions and the program when the Josephine Laskey Group met at the church. She talked on "Interpreting the Lord's Prayer."

Hostesses were Miss Eleanor McMurray and Miss Dorothy Ditty.

Melvin Wellings Mark Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wellings of Leetonia RD 2 celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house arranged by their four children, Graydon Wellings, Miss Marie Wellings, Richard Wellings and Mrs. Margaret Howard.

It's easy to remove excess fat from a cooked stew if you refrigerate the dish; the fat will rise to the top and form a solid layer after chilling.

Couple Mark 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bell

The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bell was celebrated at an open house recently at their Youngstown-Salem Road home.

Approximately 200 guests were present from Salem, Kent, Rogers, Lisbon, East Rochester, Minerva, Warren, Home Worth, Alliance, Canton, Greenford, New Milford, Chagrin Falls, North Canton, Hartsville and Youngstown.

The Bells were married Feb. 9, 1921, in New Cumberland, W. Va., and have lived in Columbiana County nearly all of their lives. Mr. Bell has been employed by the E. W. Bliss Co. for 24 years as foreman of the yard.

They are the parents of 11 children: Mrs. Betty Huston of Kent, Mrs. Deloris Betts, Mrs. Ann Wilson, Eugene Bell, Mrs. Shirley Westphal, Merle Bell, all of Salem, Mrs. Vivian Gorby of Rogers, Earl Bell with the Air Force in England and Sandra and Joseph Bell at home. A daughter, Leota Marie, died in infancy.

In keeping with the ruby theme, the refreshment table featured arrangements of red caratons flanking the three-tiered wedding cake, together with red and white tapers.

The children presented their parents with a money tree with 40 silver dollars, enclosed in red nylon net. They received many gifts and flowers.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is it possible that I am allergic to my husband? I'm perfectly fine every day after he leaves for work. I hum and sing as I do the housework.

The minute I hear his key in the lock my heart begins to pound like a hammer. I feel faint and sometimes I get dizzy. Often during dinner I am nauseated and can only pick at my food.

When we visit friends or relatives together I feel uneasy and sometimes I shake for no reason. When I see these people without him I'm perfectly at ease. My husband is a domineering man. His relatives call him "Mr. Always Right." It seems as if I am always on the defensive. What does this sound like to you?

Dear Always: You're on the right track. Your awareness that the presence of your husband has a harmful physical effect on you is a good beginning. Many women go through life half sick, without the foggiest notion of what ails them. (Sometimes it's a mother, a mother-in-law, a brother or a Dutch uncle.) You need outside help. Ask your doctor to have a talk with your husband. And ask him if he thinks both you and your husband need therapy—or just you.

Simple Solution

Dear Ann: I am a junior in high school and broken-hearted. We have lived in this house since I was 6 years old and I love it. I've grown up with the same kids and our high school is the greatest. My father's business is 10 miles away. Suddenly he has decided he hates to drive so much and he wants to move.

The thought of not being graduated with my friends makes me sick. I've tried to make my dad see how important this is to me but he says it's childish and that once I'm in another school I'll forget all about this one. Please, Ann, help me. I am getting physically ill over this. —CRACKING UP.

Dear Cracking: If this means so much to you why not ask for permission to room and board with a close friend's family five days a week and go home weekends? Such an arrangement would let you finish high school with your friends and would solve your problem neatly. Good luck.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The other day I rode the New York Central's swift 16-hour crack train between New York and Chicago. While I slept, ate, and mused over the era when each club car had its quota of Hollywood bound starlets in those earth-bound years, the engine crew up front changed eight times.

This meant that each locomotive crew worked 2 hours. Under the work rules which have so embittered the railroaders, each crew member received a day-and-a-half pay for each 2 hours of work. Eight of the men who received that day-and-a-half pay for 2 hours' work are firemen — coal stokers by profession — who ride the Diesel engine though it burns no coal and has no fire.

They are highly paid. Once their task was back breaking. That was on the old romantic coal burners. On a single long trip then they often heaved as much as 30 tons to keep up steam.

The firemen had to shovel the black fuel from a rolling bin attached to the locomotive, which could not function without them. Then the Chicago and Northwestern Railway introduced Diesel-powered streamlined trains in 1935.

After that the firemen became as useful as snow plows in the Sahara, according to the railroaders. Furthermore, there are now 35,000 of them earning some $270,000,000 each year.

This is what the railroad would like the new 15-man presidential fact-finding board to wipe out by publicly denouncing the firemen as a waste instead of a safety precaution, as the railway unions claim.

NO MATTER what the work

rules board says, it could have no effect on railroading in 16 states. These are the areas which have full crew laws. This means that when a train crosses the border of one of these states; extra crewmen get aboard. They watch the engineer. They look out the window.

The railroaders say they simply go for a high-paying ride. The unions say they're standby safety guarantees.

Not only must there be extra crew members "on-train," but there must be extras in the yards themselves in these states. There are, for example, terminal facilities of the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. at Texarkana.

The yards are located partly in Texas which has no full crew statute (or crew consist law) and partly in Arkansas which has one.

At the Texas end, two helpers are assigned to each yard crew but a few feet away, at the Arkansas end, there must be three helpers for the same work. This, multiplied thousands of times, costs the railroaders some $300 million annually.

One of the full crew states is New York, and the Public Service Commission reports that it costs the railroaders here almost $14.7 million a year for extra men.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER says the full crew law must go. There is more to the governor's concern than the solvency of the vital lines in his state. Talk to him and you discover a philosophical distaste for governmental regimentation.

"Basically," he says "no section of government should decide how many people should work on a job. That's not free enterprise. That's not free collective bargaining."

"It can be worked out so no one is fired. But let's not have the government of this state or any part of our government decide by fiat who must work on what."

The governor has given considerable thought to this daring drive to remove the law first passed in 1913.

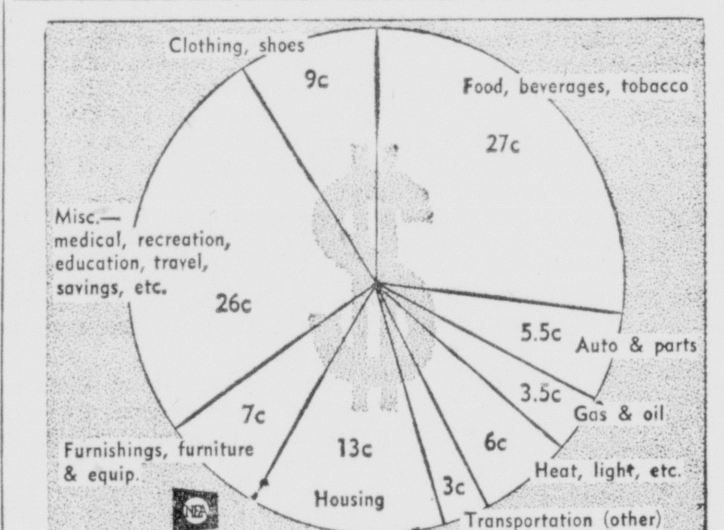

He has tried to deal with labor squarely but if they assail him for making what he believes to be a principled fight, that's a chance he'll take. Nelson Rockefeller is stubborn that way. No one pushes him past the line he has decided to follow.

He points to reports that there are 2,242 excess crewmen on the state's rail lines. He notes that even if the full crew laws were repealed, only 644 men would be affected.

UNION CONTRACTS — as well as the crew law — protect and freeze into their jobs 1,598 men. This means that only 644 railroaders, for whom work can be found elsewhere, stand in the way of a principle. And they cost the railroaders $4.4 million a year. That's a lot of principal too. About $50 million a decade — the margin of survival not only of the lines but of tens of thousands of jobs as well.

Commission states that "it cannot be demonstrated, for example, that a six-man train crew is safer. . . ."

This is bound to anger the railway unions, who have seen their memberships go from 2 million to 760,000. But anger is no substitute for the planning of men of reason, be they in the government or from the industrialist inner-sanctums or of labor's leadership.

If they all sit together and plan they can help each other in the automatic age.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Typhus, Spotted Fever

"Is it possible for a man who has never been outside of New Jersey to have Rocky Mountain fever?" asks an overwrought correspondent. "And have you ever heard of 'rackets' or some such thing that cause this sickness? I can't find the word in my dictionary."

My correspondent's confusion is easily understood. What we call Rocky Mountain spotted fever is an infection with tiny organisms called rickettsia, named for their discoverer, Dr. H. T. Ricketts of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Rickettsia are about the size of viruses, that is to say they have to be magnified some 40,000 times before they can be seen in the electron microscope.

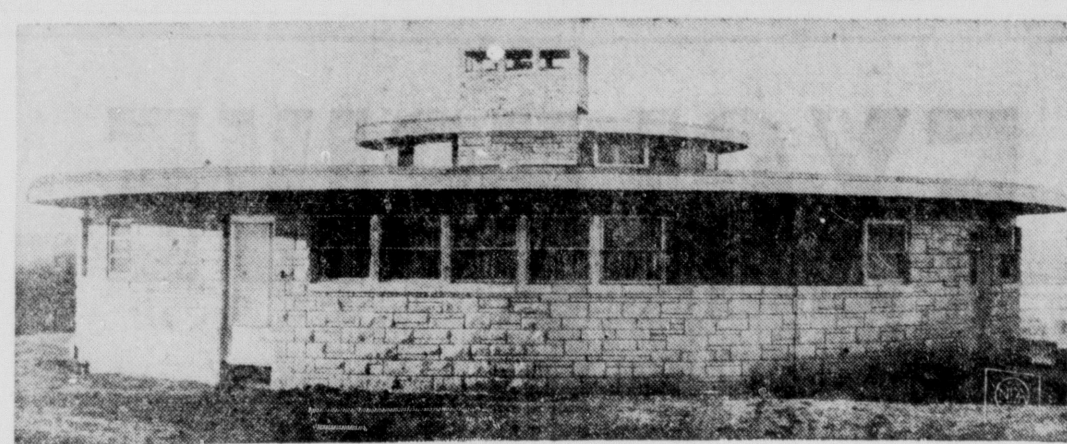

FORTUNATELY FOR US, they cannot ooze through our covering membranes, as do viruses. They are unable to infect us, in fact, unless they're injected into our tissues by a biting insect like a louse, mite, tick or fly. And the biting insect carrier can't transmit a rickettsial disease unless it has first dined on the blood of an infected human patient or, more often, a sick rat, mouse, rabbit or deer.

Now, what's called Rocky Mountain spotted fever was first observed in the Snake River and Bitter Root Valleys of Montana. Here it was originally called tick fever because it occurred only during seasons when ticks are prevalent and, most often, in persons who'd suffered tick bites.

Since its discovery the disease has been observed in eastern states and in distant countries such as South Africa, Italy and France.

SPOTTED FEVER, as it's more correctly called, used to be a serious disease. It's featured by chills, high fever and the rash to which it owes its name. Before its cause was known and isolated and prior to the development of protective vaccines and effective drugs for treatment, it claimed one patient in five. With present methods of treatment, recovery can almost be assured.

A ROUNDED HOME LIFE — Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Wacker built this round house near Leavenworth, Kan. The home has a living room at the center which is circular. All other rooms have one curved wall. There's a round basement, round rug in the round living room, and a round sink in the bathroom—but no round beds.

OF PARTICULAR INTEREST to the democracies in this troubled age is the intimate relationship that exists between spotted fever and European typhus fever. The latter is also rickettsial in its origins.

As many veterans of World Wars I and II will remember, it is carried by the body louse. Russia was still suffering the devastations of war and revolution, Prof. Hans Zinsser of Harvard Medical School estimated that "there were probably more than 25 million cases of typhus fever, with 2½ to 3 million deaths, in territories controlled by the Soviet Republics."

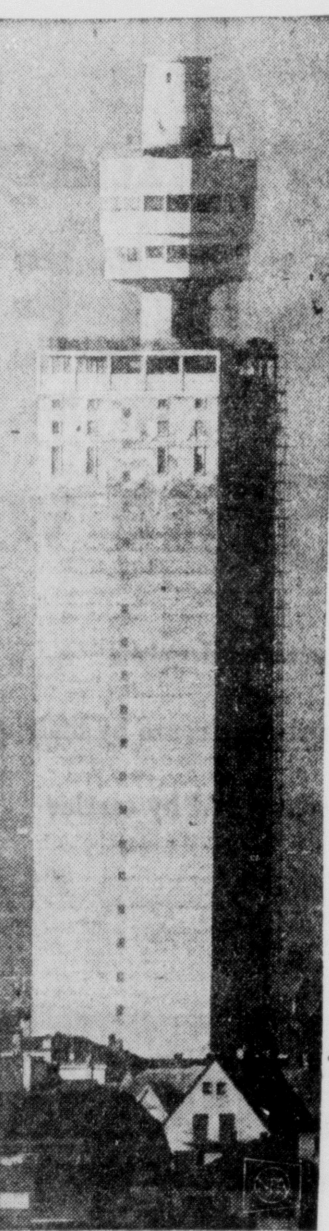

Just think of how the history of the world might have changed if an American physician hadn't discovered rickettsia and cleared the way to successful control of typhus fever.

If this stirs your imagination, read Dr. Zinsser's "Rats, Lice and History" and learn why he believed that more wars were lost to microbes and their carriers than were won by the military.

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Junior Fair Board Elects
Virginia Deakant of Ellsworth was elected president of the Mahoning County Junior Fair Board at a recent meeting. Other officers include: Ronald Truitt of Berlin Center, vice-president; Mary Beth Wylam of Coitsville, secretary, and Natalie Moherman of North Jackson, assistant secretary.

The board designated two committees to plan and conduct Junior Fair activities during the 1961 Canfield Fair. The Royal Court Committee will make preparations for the 4-H King and Queen Crowning and their appearance at the evening parades. Members of that Committee are Mary Beth Wylam, chairman, George Stacy, Jan Moser, Ruthann Bacon, Pearl Hartley, and Thelma Denton.

The Activities and Youth Day Program Committee composed of Virginia Deakant, chairman, Natalie Moherman, Fred Borkes, Dan Wolboldt, Ronnie Truitt, Judy Obinger, and Eloise Withers plan and supervise the events that occur during the Youth Day grandstand show. They also conduct Junior activities throughout the Fair.

Use of Weed Killers
Ohio farmers make wide use of chemicals to control weeds. Often they apply these chemicals to the soil after planting a crop and before the weeds come up (pre-emergence). Corn, soybeans, and sugar beets may be treated this way.

The Ohio Agricultural Extension Service has published a leaflet listing 1961 recommendations on the use of herbicides to control weeds in field crops. The leaflet, designed to serve as a guide to farmers in their weed control efforts, lists various herbicides and the rates and methods of application.

Authors of the publication are E. W. Stroube, Ohio State University extension agronomist, and D. D. Bondarenko, agronomist of the university and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

The authors point out that granular herbicides were used on about 10 per cent of the acreage tested with pre-emergence chemicals last year. When applied uniformly at recommended rates, they say, the granular formulations will give results similar to corresponding liquid or wettable powder formulations.

Copies of the leaflet are available at county Extension offices.

FICTION

RAM by Winchcombe Taylor. Found on a battle field, Ram grew up in the years of Marlborough's great campaigns. In those times the new world was just being opened, and Ram travels many thousands of miles, and meets much adventure. There is more frankness in some of the love scenes than many people prefer but otherwise the story is well told.

THE LIGHT IN THE PIAZZA by Elizabeth Spencer. A very short but poignant story of a young American girl and her mother in Italy, where the daughter falls in love with an Italian. The mother is torn by conscience because her child is mentally retarded and she has no wish to tell the young man.

GILLIAN by Frank Yerby. Set in Birmingham, Alabama, this is not too different from the usual Yerby novel. The principal female character is thoroughly despicable and connives against practically everyone.

THE SHINING LIGHT by Ralph W. Neighbor. A love story in which religion and science play a heavy part. Not very well written, but there is plenty of action and excitement.

A TIGER WALKS by Ian Niall. A suspense story which will keep the reader really witting on the edge of his chair. All about an escaped tiger and what the resultant furor and fear does to the various village inhabitants.

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF O. HENRY. A massive volume, but it is good to have all of this well-known author's work available in one volume.

NON-FICTION

HUNTING THE DESERT WHALE by Erle Stanley Gardner. Mr. Gardner finds Baja California a fascinating place. He went there first almost twenty years ago and says he has wanted to go back ever since, but put it off until an acquaintance decided also to go and provided extra special equipment. Many interesting photographs illustrate the book.

GOD'S ODDLING by Jesse Stewart. In warm, moving recollections he tells about his home country in the hills of Kentucky and especially about his father. Their home was a one-room shack at the lip of a coal mine, and poverty was deep and constant. But the father worked very hard to buy some land and insisted that his children go to school.

JOHN MORGAN AND HIS MEN by Lorine Letcher Butler. Two of Miss Butler's uncles fought with Morgan, so her connection with this famous Confederate raider is closer even than her Kentucky background would otherwise make it. Always a controversial figure, Morgan was admired by many, feared by even more, and often extremely irritating to his fellow commanders.

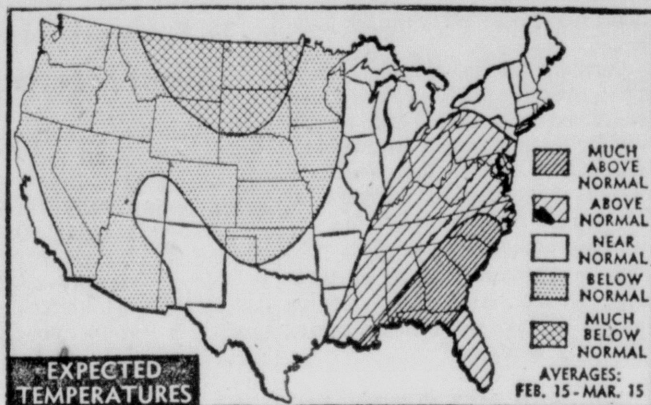

THE PAPAL PRINCES by Glenn D. Kittler. This is a history of the College of Cardinals, and begins with the beginning of Christianity, sketching main events of the College right up to 1960.

A HISTORY OF GERMAN LITERATURE by Ernest Rose. This history traces the origins and the whole cycle of German writing. The author also begins each chapter with a description of the philosophical, sociological, religious and political events which have influenced literature for such a long period.

en. An authority on the West and on Remington she edits Remington's work so as to make the book as nearly an autobiography as could be done. There are more than one hundred reproductions (in black and white) of Remington's drawings, sketches, and paintings, since he is considered the best artist of Western life of the old times, these give a vivid idea of the action and life of those times.

THE AMERICAN INDIAN WARS by John Tebbel and Keith Jenson. This is the first one volume history of the struggle between Indian and white men that has appeared, covering four centuries, the book is a continuous narrative of the many men and places involved in this struggle in which the white man always won out at last.

THE UNFORGETTABLE AMERICANS edited by John A. Garrity. You may never remember hearing about some of the people included in this book, but each made an important contribution to the making of America. Their stories are told by well-known historians, so they are interesting to read.

THE ASTRONAUTS by Martin Caidon. The story of Project Mercury in a continuous narrative, from its inception to the present. Many diagrams and photographs help to make the story easily comprehended.

WRESTLING ILLUSTRATED by Raymond E. Sparks. Pictures and directions for the conditioning and most of the common holds in this popular sport.

GOLF IS MY GAME by Bobby Jones. A combination of personal recollection and how to play good golf, this will be enjoyed by any person fond of the game.

READABLE RELATIVITY by Clement V. Durell. This is simplified, but it does include the mathematics necessary to complete understanding of the subject.

THIS WAS YOUR WAR edited by Frank Brookhouser. A collection of some of the greatest of the stories that were written about World War II. Some of the authors included are — Marion Hargrove, Ernie Pyle, Norman Mailer, Herman Wouk, Drew Middleton, John Steinbeck and many others.

STITCHER IN TIME — According to the history books, Elias Howe invented the sewing machine and patented it in 1846. However, 84-year-old Mrs. Ray Evanson of Oshkosh, Wis., has a sewing machine which bears the patent date of 1836. The machine is a Melcoum chain stitch. The antique, which still works well, was used by Mrs. Evanson's grandmother, who made all her family's clothes on it—including her husband's suits.

Yesiree...this is an "old-fashioned" winter!

The Old Farmer's Almanac was right when it predicted a real "old-fashioned" winter this year.

It's been cold! And, how!

The average temperature during December was 33½ per cent colder than the same month the year before in the area served by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

January was 23 per cent colder than a year ago.

During the 12-day period ending January 30, temperatures dropped 9 to 22 degrees below normal.

As a result, Ohio Fuel delivered a record 103 billion cubic feet of gas during December and January to keep customers' homes warm.

This means your home heating bills this winter are likely to be higher than usual. The colder the weather, the more fuel it takes to keep your house warm. But it's a comfort to know that gas is by far the least expensive fuel for heating.

With natural gas, homeowners in Ohio enjoy unmatched heating efficiency, comfort, and convenience — no matter how much colder one year is than another — at rates that continue to be among the lowest in the nation.

Iowa Nips Michigan, Michigan State Topples Illinois In Big Ten Frays

By The Associated Press
Coach Fred Taylor has been saying it right along. Opponents have had more than a strong suspicion and now the general public is beginning to realize it. Jerry Lucas, fine a player as he is, isn't the entire Ohio State basketball team.

That seldom has been more evident that it has been in the last two games, when the No. 1 ranked Buckeyes survived a couple of cliff hangers to keep their record untarnished and virtually sew up their second straight Big Ten title.

A revenge-minded Indiana team managed to hold Lucas to 16 points—about 10 below his season average—Monday night as Hoosier fans chanted "We want blood." But Mel Nowell, one of the "other guys" that Taylor has repeatedly praised for consistent play, came through with 27 points and Ohio State won anyway, 73-69.

Last Saturday it was Larry Siegfried who contributed the all-important points in a narrow victory over an Iowa team that lost most of its leading players by ineligibility but still manages to hang in there.

Iowa, due largely to the efforts of Don Nelson, the one surviving first stringer, turned back Michigan 50-46 and retained that almost invisible chance of overtaking the Buckeyes.

Two of Ohio State's remaining conference foes came through with upset victories Monday night. Wisconsin tumbled Minnesota 83-75, ending an eight-game losing streak that began early in January, and Michigan State climbed out of the conference cellar with a 90-80 victory over Illinois in a heated game.

In the Big Eight, Colorado replaced Oklahoma State in a third place tie—far behind pace-setting Kansas and Kansas State—by trimming the Cowpokes 63-61 while Nebraska trounced Oklahoma 83-61.

St. Louis, an also-ran in the Missouri Valley Conference but a possible National Invitation Tournament invitee, improved its changes with a deliberate 74-60 victory over Notre Dame. The Billikens are 15-7 for the season after handin Natre Dame its second home floor defeat in two seasons.

Miami (Fla.) a NIT bound team, had an easy 96-80 victory over Jacksonville U.

There were some pretty fair individual scoring exploits in the night's other games involving Ohio colleges:

Paul Fike of Bluffton led the parade with 30 as the Beavers

Favorites Notch Volleyball Victories

Salem Concrete Jaycees, Post Office and Arndt Insurance all posted clean sweeps in volleyball action at the Memorial Building last night.

Post Office racked up Deming Co., 15-5, 10-8 and 12-8; Salem Concrete Jaycees downed Eljer, 15-6, 14-11 and 13-11; and Arndt Insurance trounced Electric Furnace Engineering, 15-7, 15-6 and 15-6.

Kiwanis still leads the Adult League with a 12-0 record. Post Office and Hunt Quick As Wink are tied for second with 9-3 marks.

Inter-County Scoring Title Goes to Patterson

Three Greenford cagers and two from Fairfield-Waterford were among the top 12 scorers in the Inter-County League this season.

Pat Patterson of league champion McDonald beat out Ward Manchester of North Lima for the scoring title. Patterson collected 314 points in 18 games for a 17.4 average which gave him a comfortable margin over Manchester who popped in 250 markers in 18 tilts for a 13.9 mark.

Greenford's trio in the top 12 included Clyde Shoff, seventh, 209; Bob Cook, eighth, 18; and Dick Arnold, 10th, 177.

Clarence Kannel of Fairfield-Waterford placed sixth with 211 markers and Tom Messenger wound up in 11th place with 159 points. Messenger broke into the select list despite the fact that he sprained an ankle near mid-season and never really got back up to his early season form which had him near the top of the standings.

Moving up to take the number 12 spot in his final game of the season was Jim Sahli of Western Reserve. Sahli tossed in 15 points in 17 games for the Blue Devils.

OSU 1st In Poll For 11th Week

St. Bonaventure In Runnerup Spot

By The Associated Press
The Ohio State basketball team had its biggest scare of the season last Saturday night.

Playing Iowa in Iowa City, the undefeated Buckeyes fell ten points behind at halftime and still trailed by seven points with minutes remaining.

Then the Buckeyes slammed in ten straight points—the last two goals on steals—and squeezed out a 62-61 victory.

This great comeback for victory No. 20 gave Ohio State the No. 1 position in The Associated Press basketball poll for the 11th straight week.

St. Bonaventure, with a 20-1 season mark, also was a unanimous choice of the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters for the runnerup spot, getting 36 votes.

The remainder of the top ten involved some brisk scrambling although the shakeup involved the same teams which placed last week. There wasn't a single newcomer.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses:
1. Ohio State (36) 360
2. St. Bonaventure 324
3. Cincinnati 254

their shooting. Greenford caged only 13 of 56 shots from the floor for 23 per cent while Lowellville hit on only 15 of 80 attempts for 19 per cent.

WESTERN RESERVE gave Sebring a good battle for three periods before the Trojans overcame a nine-point deficit with a big 30-point fourth quarter.

Royce of Western Reserve fouled out with 40 seconds left in the third quarter and the Blue Devils fell apart defensively after that.

Jerry Greiner notched 13 points and veteran Ray Dorr contributed 12 to the Sebring victory. Dick Engle was high for Western Reserve with 15.

Jackson-Milton, which won only one regular season game, jumped off to a 6-4 lead in the first quarter, only to see North Lima move out in front 22-10 by the intermission.

Ward Manchester and Jim Reed each popped in 14 points for North Lima. Jim Gorgei paced Jackson-Milton with 14.

Area Cage Selections:

East Liverpool Gets Nod Over Wellsville

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
The old crystal ball goes back where we found it—in the trash can—after this week's final two area regular season basketball games are completed.

Last weekend we hit 20 winners in 24 games to keep our record over the 75 per cent mark.

East Liverpool is involved in the only two non-tourney tilts in the area this week. The Pottery are on the road against Wellsville tonight and at Weirton, W. Va. on Friday.

East Liverpool, who could probably win the state championship playing on its home floor, has been something less than sensation on the road (except Kenny Cunningham and Kenny Miller, who are sensations anywhere). The Pottery are 9-0 at home but only 2-5 away from Memorial Auditorium.

That East Liverpool-Wellsville clash tonight is likely to be a bitterly contested battle. The Tigers just might want this game badly enough to upset the Pottery.

REMEMBER STEVE BALDWIN.

First National Whips Bricker's

Ray Patterson Leads Bankers Into First

Ray Pinkerton's name doesn't appear among the scoring leaders in the Salem Class A basketball loop because he missed six of his team's first round games, but the first National Bank star has led the Bankers into the driver's seat in second round competition.

Last night Pinkerton dumped in 34 points in First National's 66-49 victory over Bricker & Bricker. The defeat of Bricker's, coupled with a forfeit loss by Old Dutch to the Berlin Merchants, left the Bankers all alone in first place with a 5-1 record.

THE FORFEIT VICTORY for Berlin was its first win of the round. Old Dutch, the first round champion, slipped to a 3-2 record.

In the other game last night, Salem Stamping (4-2) trounced Beall Battery & Electric (3-3) by a score of 67-52.

Pinkerton picked up his 34 points last night on 10 fielders and 14 fouls. Burt Patterson took down scoring honors for Bricker's with 19 points. Bricker's now has a 4-2 record.

JACK ALEXANDER hooped 21 points and Bill Pauline added 19 for Salem Stamping in its easy triumph over Beall's. High-scoring Ed Daugherty of Beall's was held to just 9 points. Frank Shagnot and Dick Beall paced the losers with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Old Dutch's loss to Berlin was the first forfeit in the Class A loop this season in 73 games.

Lakers Ousted By Nationals

Hawks Back Into Western Title

By The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Lakers are out of the running for the Western Division title in the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers visited Morgantown Monday night to play the Syracuse Nationals, lost 126-121 and the St. Louis Hawks backed into the Western title.

The Lakers' Elgin Baylor scored 45 points and grabbed 21 rebounds while veteran Dolph Schayes, playing his 65th consecutive NBA game, was the big man for Syracuse with 29 points.

Los Angeles, a half game ahead of the Detroit Pistons, plays Syracuse in the first half of a New York doubleheader tonight. The New York Knicks meet the Philadelphia Warriors in the other game. The Cincinnati Royals, only a game and a half behind the Lakers, play at St. Louis in tonight's other NBA game.

Jay and Lionel Hebert are the first brothers ever to win the PGA golf title.

Noses Out Tom Baxter

Jerry Schaffer Cops Turnpike Scoring Title

United's Jerry Schaffer nosed out Tom Baxter of West Branch by 16 points to capture the Turnpike Conference scoring title this season.

Schaffer, who is only a junior, banged home 312 points in 18 games for a 17.3 average. Baxter, a senior, popped 296 markers in 15 tilts for a 16.4 average.

The powerful West Branch team, which won 16 of 18 games and finished second to Canfield in the league standings, placed three men on the list of 10 top scorers in the loop.

Besides Baxter, they are Dick Loudon, third, with 244 points; and Fred Brunner, seventh, with 198.

Johnny Hanna, another one United Coach Larry Joseph's talented juniors, wound up in fourth place with 232 markers.

Yankee Hurler Quarantined

Activity Blossoms in Major League Training Camps

By The Associated Press

A new twist was added to an old story today as major league baseball clubs began the training chores for a season that will extend to next October. Pitcher Luis Arroyo was delayed in reporting to the New York Yankees camp because of a quarantine for bubonic plague.

Arroyo had been pitching for the San Juan team in the Caribbean series in Caracas, Venezuela. When he returned to Puerto Rico to pack for the trip to the Yankees' camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., he ran into a 10-day quarantine imposed by Puerto Rican authorities because of a bubonic plague outbreak in Caracas. If that wasn't enough, an airline strike would have made travel to Florida impossible.

Some other new factors to be reckoned with in 1961 are the expansion of the American League to 10 teams with the addition of two new clubs and the shift of another; a handful of new managers and the great Chicago Cubs' experiment of operating with eight coaches sharing the managerial duties, a new club owner at Kansas City and too many changes of personnel to count easily. It may be hard to recognize some of the teams.

Five clubs had early arrivals working out last week with a few veterans mingling with the rookies who were undergoing inspection. The Yankees camp formally opened Sunday for the arrival of batters. The entire Los Angeles Dodgers' squad was due at the Vero Beach, Fla., camp Monday, and the Athletics' pitchers and catchers were due at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The new Minnesota Twins (shifted from Washington) and the Baltimore Orioles had their camp openings scheduled today. By the end of this week every club will have at least some men in camp except the Chicago White Sox, who report Sunday, and the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cards, who set Feb. 28 as the reporting date. Exhibition games are scheduled to start March 11.

Of special interest will be the efforts of the managers of the new clubs—Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels and Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators — to mould respectable squads from the second-line players made available by the other American League teams and whatever other talent they have been able to pick up.

Other new managers are Ralph Houk as successor to the inimitable Casey Stengel with the Yankees, Joe Gordon at Kansas City, Bob Scheffing at Detroit, and Al Dark at San Francisco.

The top scores of the night were turned in in the Monday Nite Scratch League where Walt Elvick blazed to a 652-235-267 and George Mitchell fired a 61-243.

Cincinnati Elder, Ayersville Top High School Cage Polls

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The long, long tournament test for Ohio's high school basketball championships—a test only two of the 1,000-plus teams can pass—is under way.

And the consensus of the state's sports writers is that Cincinnati Elder in Class AA, and Defiance Ayersville in Class A, will replace Dayton Roosevelt and Salem Local of Champaign County on the throne when all the shooting is over March 25 in St. John Arena.

The two unbeaten powerhouses topped the Associated Press poll today by impressive margins as 49 sports writers balloted on the best in the Buckeye realm.

On the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, Elder's Panthers wound up ahead of Dayton Roosevelt by 347 to 268, picking up 13 first-place votes to two for the twice-beaten Teddies. Changes were few in the Top Ten this week. Athens skidded out of ninth place in Class AA, despite having but a lone loss, and Sandusky moved into tenth with three defeats, Hamilton Garfield, early leader, dropped from third to eighth after losing to Springfield South.

In Class A, Dover St. Joe succumbed twice last week after 16 straight wins, and Youngstown Liberty with an 18-1 record eased into tenth place, the first appearance for the northeastern hotshots, Salem Local's defending kings dropped from fifth to eighth in the final Class A ratings.

Since all the Class A teams are now involved in tournaments, no further ratings will be made in that division. The final Class AA poll will be taken after this week's games—some of them in sectional tournaments.

From here and there: Harrison, situated right on the Indiana line in Hamilton County, could have the state's top Class AA scorer, Harrison has won 16 straight, and Don Roloff, a 6-7 senior, has scored at a 31.6 clip.
